WHAT MAKES OUR COURSE UNIQUE

Tactical Operations Consulting instructors have an extensive background in either Tactical Law Enforcement Medicine or Military Combat Medicine. Most instructors have served on special operations teams such as S.W.A.T. (Special Weapons and Tactics), Army Special Forces, Marine Force Recon or similar branches.

With this experience they bring the best in Tactical Medicine training to the civilian, law enforcement and military world. Sharing years of knowledge and expertise in the field of Tactical Emergency Medical Support (TEMS).

The instructors will share their knowledge of the fundamentals of Tactical Combat Casualty Care, Pre-hospital Medicine, and tactical skills to develop the student's confidence in their ability to provide up to date medical support for law enforcement tactical teams.

THE T.O.C. EXPERIENCE

We believe any course teaching a person how to work with a tactical unit should include the training to make that person safe, confident and responsible.

We provide practical instruction on the following subjects:

- Tactical Combat Casualty Care
- Tactical Movement
- Weapon Systems
- Rapid Patient Assessment
- Care Under Fire
- Advanced Wound Management

HANDS ON TRAINING

Many students have attended our class even after receiving training from another school. The reason for this is that we spend a majority of our training time outside the classroom recreating real world situations. In some courses you may find that the training is focused on classroom instruction. We focus on hands on, practical applications of combat casualty care. Our goal is to train up our students to work in "The Hot Zone", for it is better to have a skill and not need it, than to need a skill and not have it!

We have designed our course to give the student the knowledge base to be an effective care provider/ operator in support of a Tactical Team. Students will also be given examples of different documents vital to the successful implementation of a TEMS team. .

The course can be adapted to the needs of a specific department. For example we can add a weapons package for those departments that are allowing their TEMS providers to be armed.

The instructors will work side by side with the student to ensure their success.
